MANY KILLED AND INJURED IN OKLAHOMA CYCLONE

SOUTHERN OKLAHOMA AND NORTHWESTERN TEXAS AGAIN VISITED BY DEATH-DEALING STORM: GREAT LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

Lawton, Oklahoma, In Storm's Path, Reports Three Dead And Many Injured, Fire Among The Debris Adding To Its Terrors—Many Victims Imprisoned Under Wreckage.

WIRES DOWN AND REPORTS MEAGRE

Lawton, Oklahoma, April 8.—Three persons were reported killed and ten injured in a cyclone which struck the northwestern portion of this city at 7:30 o'clock this morning and destroyed fifteen homes. The dead are Mrs. Scants and her two children. The amount of the damage has not been estimated. Families were just completing their breakfast when the twister struck. Fire broke out immediately after and endangered the lives of those who were injured and imprisoned beneath their homes. The entire city is engaged in rescue work. Telephone and electric service is badly crippled.

Dallas, Texas, April 8.—Northern and western Texas and southern Oklahoma were swept by a cyclone early today. The storm took a toll of at least eight lives, according to reports reaching here over badly crippled wires.

Ballinger, Texas, April 8.—At least six persons are known to be dead in a cyclone which struck Rowena shortly after midnight last night. Six residences were demolished and the crossroads school house has disappeared. Heavy rains have up rescue work. Many people are reported to have fled clad only in their night clothes.

CANT CHECK CRIME WAVE

New York, N. Y., April 8.—In an effort to check the crime wave in New York City, Police Commissioner Enright today began acquiring 1192 additional patrolmen and detectives. But a few hours after Enright had received permission to enlarge the police department Harry Crane, an attorney, was shot and instantly killed as he watched a battle between the police and fleeing auto bandits.

Chicago Couple Held In Windy City's Latest Mysterious Murder

Chicago, Ill., April 8.—Miss Veronica Long and her secretly married husband, Lewis Zandt were held by police today in connection with the investigation of the murder of William Parlon. Parlon was killed as he stepped from his automobile to call on Miss Long. Authorities are convinced that Parlon was killed out of jealousy. Immediately after the killing Miss Long packed up her belongings and moved to a new address. Detectives found her at her new home with a man. "Who is that man?" she was asked. She faints. The woman had been living apart from her husband for a short time before the killing. Zandt attempted to establish an alibi, saying he was with another person at the time. This other person, however, denied the statement, and it is a district manager of the Wales Adding Machine Company.

Automobile Bandits Secure $4,000 Pay Roll At Port Chester N. Y.

Port Chester, N. Y., April 8.—Bandits in a luxurious limousine today held up and robbed a messenger carrying a $4,000 pay roll of the Mint Products Company. The youth having charge of the money was easily overpowered.

Miss Grace Barrett is very ill at her home on West Front street.

Judge Day Re-Asserts He Shot Army Airman In Defense Of His Wife

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 8.—"My wife looked to me to protect her honor. I did." This is the plea of Judge John P. Day before the coroner's jury which today holds its inquiry into the death of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Beck. Across the witness stand Judge Day will face the son of the idol of the air field and seven relatives of the air hero whom Day claims he killed in protecting Mrs. Day's honor. At the same time the County Attorney will start to delve after the hidden angles of the case, he announced. He will attempt to determine what Day saw through the windows of his home that set his brain aflame when he returned from taking guests home from the party and whether Beck was facing him in a fighting attitude when the evidence shows that the bullet which caused his death was fired from the rear.

Mrs. Frank Gould Tells American Women They Must Battle Divorce

New York, N. Y., April 8.—Edith Kelly Gould today called upon American women to fight existing divorce laws, laws which permit American husbands to sneak over to Europe to betray and desert their wives. "What wife knows," the former Mrs. Gould demanded, "when her husband sails for Europe but that she may some day be notified by cable that she has been divorced." The former wife of Frank Gould whose French divorce was recently sustained here warned that the very institution of marriage is in danger when it can be flouted by one husband with money enough to buy a trip to Europe and subsidize an infamous judge. "We are married under American laws and bound by them and we should only be divorced by these same laws," Mrs. Gould said.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Lena V. Wilson entertained at an informal dinner last evening at her home on Sixth Street at which time the engagement of Miss Hannah Barton to William Beahan was announced.

COAL STRIKE

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Members of the House Labor Committee were today considering going to President Harding with a request that he insist that the coal operators of the country come to Washington for a conference with the miners to end the coal strike.

New York, N. Y., April 8.—More than 50,000 non-union miners have joined the ranks of the United Mine Workers in the nation-wide walkout. John L. Lewis told the United Press in an exclusive interview today. At the close of the first week of the coal strike the union leaders still stand firm for a finish fight and no compromise with the operators.

Connellsville, Pa., April 8.—United Mine Workers struck a solid wall of anti-union sentiment here today in their fight to organize the miners in the world's largest coke region. 5000 non-union miners from Uniontown to Connellsville refused to join the nation-wide strike, claiming that their yearly earnings exceeded the wage of the union miners. However, elated at the close of forty large mines in Brownsville—Uniontown district, the local Connellsville organizer predicted the unionizing of the entire region within two weeks.

Uniontown, Pa., April 8.—Coke production has not dropped in undue degree despite shut-downs of 36 mines in the Connellsville region, the H. C. Frick Coke Company estimated today. At coking coal output is being produced in the Connellsville section where union men have not succeeded in getting non-union men to strike. Now, however, several mines are shipping large quantities of coal to Clairton Steel Company which is operating at capacity. Fear that a shutdown in the Connellsville region by the miners union would cripple the steel industry, was dispelled when a Frick official pointed out that the demand was 40 per cent lower than it was three years ago. The crisis will be reached Monday, both operators and miners here believe. Labor organizations are pushing towards the great mining centers demonstrations and speakers are planned for Palm Sunday.

Gallup, New Mexico, April 8.—Two companies of National Guard Engineers and a squadron of Cavalry arrived here today to quell serious rioting and disorder in the coal fields near here. Martial law has been established by order of the Governor.

Wholesale Recreation for Entire City

Year Round Program and Game Leaders Classes Planned by Community Services

A recreation institute to train leaders in the technique of conducting games and community play and to develop a corps of volunteer play around workers will be held in the High School gymnasium for a period of two weeks beginning April 20th. There will be six sessions, on the Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings between April 20th and May 2nd, Miss Frances Haire, recreation organizer, on the staff of national Community Service has been secured to direct this institute and assist in developing a broad program of good times and neighborliness for the whole year. This announcement was made today by Mr. George E. Zerfoss, Chairman of Clearfield Community Service who added: "Every one who enjoys sociability and wants to grow young or stay young, through participation in wholesome recreation is welcome to attend these classes. The game leading courses are real fun generators and develop a spirit of comradeship and cooperation which will be invaluable to Clearfield in the future. "This institute should supply us with trained leadership for a bigger program of community recreation, furnish a supply of playground workers and of directors for group games for our churches, social and civil societies. The chairman of the Committee in charge of this institute will be Mrs. P. B. Reed, and the committee includes Miss Ethel Boyce, Mrs. Geo. Brett, Miss Edna Froyd, Mrs. H. J. Milligan, Miss Elizabeth Reed, Miss Grace Underwood and Mr. T. H. Hartwick. Registration cards for the institute will be in the hands of the committee early next week and will also be available at the office of Clearfield Community Service in the High School Building. There will be no charge or any pledge of service required for attendance, but it is hoped that most of those attending will be able to act as volunteer play leaders on the play grounds or in their various organizations.

MYSTERIOUS CAUSE OF DOUBLE DEATH OF BROTHERS

Boys, Aged 4 And 6, Die Within Same Hour After Illness Of Only About Three Hours.

DOCTORS PUZZLED

Under mysterious circumstances and from causes not yet determined Robert, aged six years, and Theodore aged four years, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Heller, of Port Barnett, Jefferson county, died yesterday afternoon at their home. Robert died at 4 p. m. before medical aid could be summoned and his little brother succumbed 45 minutes later.

The parents of the dead children are unable to give any explanation of the sudden death of their children and physicians who performed autopsies last evening are just as much at sea. All are convinced, however, that foul play did not have a part in the boys' deaths.

Mrs. Heller says that both boys ate their usual hearty breakfast and that no food that might have caused ptomaine poisoning was a part of the meal. At the noon hour both boys said they were not hungry but this occasioned no alarm as very frequently both boys declined to eat at the noon hour. About 1 p. m. the older boy complained of being sick and declined on a couch. He rose twice to vomit and a short time later the younger boy was taken ill. The older boy apparently recovered and helped his mother about the house. Shortly before 4 o'clock he again became ill and Dr. H. T. Thomson, of Brookville, was summoned. When the physician arrived he found Robert, the older boy, dead and the younger boy near death. The four year old child succumbed about seven minutes after his arrival.

In the absence of County Coroner J. C. Mills, his authority was delegated by District Attorney W. E. Morris to Dr. Thomson, who directed an inquest and last evening with the aid of Drs. Snyder and Brown, of Brookville, conducted an autopsy.

The internal organs of the children were found to be in normal condition with nothing in the stomachs to indicate poisoning of any kind. All three physicians are positive that ptomaine poisoning was not responsible for their deaths because the reaction in both cases was not that of ptomaine poisoning. A heart depression was noted.

MAMMOTH ICEBOX IS BEING BUILT HERE FOR SOUTH AMERICA

Monster Refrigerator Goes To Colombia To Try Out Butchers' New Storage Scheme.

IS A TRIAL ORDER

The Banta Refrigerator Co., local refrigerator manufacturers, report that they have secured an order, thru their New York office, for a large meat and storage refrigerator, to be shipped to Carlos Obregon & Co., Bogota, Colombia, South America.

The refrigerator, now in the process of construction at their East End plant, measures 14 ft. across the front, is 12 ft in depth and 11 ft high. The walls are 10 in thick, insulated with water proof paper and mineral wool, which is recognized as a splendid non-conductor of heat and cold. The refrigerator, when ready for shipment, will weigh approximately fifteen (15) tons, 20,000 pounds and will have an ice capacity of 10,000 pounds of ice. The Banta people claim there were over 255,000 nails used in the construction of the refrigerator.

Down in Bogota where this cooler is to be used, the butchers kill about 100 live stock for the daily consumption. Sometimes there are left-overs which on the following day, must be sold at a considerable loss in price, since they have no refrigerators or other means of keeping meats at the present time. This refrigerator is to be used as a storage for their left-overs and if the arrangement is successful, the Banta Co. is assured of an immediate order for twenty-five similar coolers for the same concern.

Banta Refrigerators are in use in Cuba, Hawaiian Islands, Canada, Alaska, Brazil and Argentina. The company contemplates establishing a branch office in Buenos Aires, Argentina, in the near future.

CHORUS OF NEARLY ONE HUNDRED WILL SING "JOAN OF ARC"

Here is some more good news. The Clearfield Musical Club chorus, consisting of seventy five voices under direction of Prof. H. Clark Thayer, will present "Joan of Arc" by Paul On April 27th at the High School Auditorium. Remember the date, Thursday, April 27th. It will be one of the musical treats of the year. The chorus has been hard at work ever since the first of the year and Professor Thayer has worked hard to turn out an entertainment that will do credit to the city and its many famed soloists. The chorus work will be fully balanced and wonderful to hear while the soloists, Mr. Victor Meredith, Robert Mitchell and Mrs. E. C. Reeve are a guarantee that the performance will be first class in every respect.

Check Writer, Caught At Woodland, Coughs Up $30 And Escapes Prison

Fred C. Clark of Woodland was arrested yesterday at Woodland by Chief of Police Hitt charged with having forged the name of Cecil F. Wilson to a check for $20. The check, it was disclosed at a hearing before Squire John, was passed upon an East End butcher. The butcher passed it along to Burgess Kittelberger in paying a bill and the forgery was discovered when it reached the bank. It was dated April 1st. Chief Hitt, after picking Clark up took him before Justice John, where a settlement was made between the parties. Clark's plunge into financing, costing him about $30 and a good scare.

Methodists In Union Meeting Next Week To Encourage Fellowship

The three new pastors of the Clearfield Methodist churches are, now in their fields of labor. Rev. C. K. Gibson is at Eleventh Street; Rev. H. L. Jacobs has already taken a grip upon Trinity and Rev. W. L. Armstrong is making himself felt at West Side. These pastors and their official members have planned a union meeting of their people in Trinity church next Thursday evening. At the close of a very interesting service arranged for that night, The Lord's Supper will be administered by a large company of Methodist Ministers, in commemoration of the Eucharist by Jesus Christ on the night before His Crucifixion. This anniversary will be a great challenge to the Methodists in such an unusual gathering to honor The Holy Communion. Trinity church will be open to the public for prayer and worship every day next week and in the evenings. Special services on Wednesday and Friday nights.

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

(From the Monthly Bulletin Issued by The National City Bank of New York for April)

THE general feeling in business circles is one of strengthening confidence that the corner has been turned and that 1922 will be a better year than 1921. The improvement in fundamental conditions and in general feeling since the first of the year has been very marked; indeed, from the middle of January to the first of March optimism was perhaps over-pronounced, and a moderate reaction in some lines has naturally resulted.

The stock market, which is prompt to reflect even anticipate changes in fundamental conditions, has been creeping upward for the last six months in a slow but persistent movement, which suggests faith that better days are coming.

Railroad traffic, as indicated by the reports of car-loadings since the first of the year, have been running ahead of last year, although January gross earnings were about 16 per cent. below those of the same month of 1921. On the other hand the net earnings of 199 roads were $57,421,605 in January against $28,331,956 in January, 1921, which reflects the reduction in operating expenses.

Trading in all lines is on a short order basis. Foreign buyers wish to avoid the risks of exchange fluctuations so far as possible, and in the domestic trade there is a prospect that in some lines, particularly clothing and textiles, prices may be lower. There is general agreement, however, that both at home and abroad stocks have been worked down to the minimum and that there must be constant buying to meet the demands for current consumption. This is one respect in which the situation is decidedly more favorable than it was in the latter part of 1920 and three months of 1921.

The steel industry has made a marked recovery, the United States Steel Corporation now operating at about 70 per cent. of capacity and the independent companies in the aggregate at probably 60 per cent. When it is considered that the production capacity has increased 50 per cent. since before the war, it will be seen that this is far from a state of stagnation.

The implement industry, which is still far from normal, is much better than at this time last year, and the case also with the automobile industry, and even more so with the building industry. The latter is quite recovered, and its output in 1921, $132,909,000, in February, 1922, against $50,433,167 in February, 1921.

The Situation in Agriculture. The chief factor in the change of sentiment which has occurred since the first of the year has been the

OTHER FACTORS INFLUENCING CONDITIONS

Aside from the unsettled and extremely unsatisfactory state of the reparations question, European affairs have been progressing in a manner to give encouragement.

The Genoa Conference, although of vague import, should accomplish something by bringing the high representatives of all Europe together.

The disturbance in the textile industry of New England is unsettled and spreading, with a likelihood of involving the entire textile industry of that section before it is settled.

The public has taken the impending coal strike very quietly, refusing to believe that there will be any serious effects upon business.

The labor organizations may have more power than the employers, but both are subject to economic law. There is more to the industrial problem than a mere trial of strength between employers and wage-workers. Industrial peace and progress is dependent upon a general understanding of this fact.

The unfavorable factor which continues to retard industrial recovery is the unbalanced relationship between values in the different industries, resulting from the uneven fall of prices and wages.

Rise in prices of farm products. It came so easily and naturally as to demonstrate that the country had been suffering from excessive pessimism, and that in the natural order of things the economic situation, given reasonable time, would recover its equilibrium. Grain prices in March lost a part of their February gains, but the reasons were obvious and there was no serious loss of confidence. The breaking of the drought in the southwest and improvement in the outlook for the winter wheat crop was the principal factor in the decline. For several months the country had been hearing that the condition of the Kansas wheat crop was critical and getting worse every day, and then came snow and rain, and the prospect is now reported good for a large crop. The world situation in wheat is closely balanced and any important news is likely to have more than the usual effect. Australia and Argentina are both exporting freely. New wheat from India will be available within a month, and the harvest is only three months off in this country. As the price of the crop year approaches, opinions as to whether or not this country was selling itself at a profit, but the opinion is now general that there will be enough to go around.

Corn and oats always are influenced more or less by wheat, and both are down from the top. The price in the central markets is all up to storage capacity, and the speculative market is not inclined to make more. The price of corn will be dominated in the long run by the price of live stock, particularly hogs. Ten dollars per hundred for hogs means that a large part of the corn crop is being marketed at very profitable prices.

Although the exports of all meat products in 1921 increased 3 per cent. in pounds over those of 1920, hog products fared better than beef. Cotton is about where it was at the beginning of March. As the world has been living on reduced consumption for several years, it very much needs to use more cotton, and the situation is disquieting. If the season should be bad for the growing crop we may have very high prices for cotton. Such an outcome is very undesirable, for it will mean high prices to consumers with little compensating benefit to growers.

Prospects Encouraging. On the whole there seems to be a good basis for believing that agriculture in all branches will have a better market for the next crop than for the last one. The farmer's costs are declining, and we believe that the necessary readjustments to bring industry into balance require that they shall continue to decline. It is in the interest of all business that the farmers, the most numerous class in the country, shall have a fair show in the field. With agricultural production increasing in Europe, the farmer cannot expect the prices of his products to go back to the high levels due to the war, and if he has made mistakes of judgment by buying property at high prices he has lots of company among people who are not farmers, but he has a right to expect that one way or another, his products have a purchasing power in relation to other commodities and services equal to that of before the war. We do not think that much can be done by means of legislation to secure this to him, but are positively in our opinion that economic law will bring it to him, and we counsel all other groups to cheerfully accept it to him as tightly as

The following interesting figures are taken from the twentieth annual report of the Clearfield Hospital, just issued:

During the year ending May 31, 1921. Three Thousand Two Hundred and Sixty-one persons have experienced the benefits of the Hospital. The departments contributing this service and the number treated in each are as follows:

Surgical	1545
Medical	927
Obstetrical	71
Children	165
Out Patients	782
New Born	71

Total Patients cared for	3261
Total number of Hospital days	21,141
Average number treated in 1 day (plus)	.68
Average cost per patient per day	$4.37
Number of ambulance trips made during year	261

Discharged
Recovered	1812
Improved	445
Unimproved	4
Number of deaths during year	84

It was hoped that during the year conditions would adjust themselves to somewhat near a pre-war basis. In this we have been disappointed. The deficit for the year $9164.86 an increase of $2,619.00 over last year has occurred notwithstanding the fact that an earnest effort was made to reduce the expense of the Hospital. Additions and improvements made during the year include the following:

Addition to the Staff of four intern doctors made necessary more room, and the basement floor of the Lee wing was used for this purpose.

The Nurses Dining Rooms were also removed to this floor, thus allowing space for the new diet kitchen which has been completely equipped with modern appliances and has added much to the efficiency of that department.

The Salariums made possible through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Nin McQuillen and the Woman's Auxiliary (who furnished the sun parlor of third floor in memory of Mrs. Florence Fielding) have added much to the comfort and welfare of the patients.

The re-arrangements of the business offices in the Massop Building and the grading in front of the Hospital has added greatly to the appearance of the Hospital.

We wish to acknowledge our appreciation of the gift of Mrs. Martha Shillingford Babcock of $500.00 for the maintenance of a bed in the Children's ward for one year.

The Hospital has before it an expanding field for usefulness. Your interest in the work may be shown in any of the following ways:

A contribution of $10,000.00 will allow a private room.

A contribution of $5,000.00 will allow a free bed in the ward.

A contribution of $500.00 will maintain a bed in the Children's ward for one year.

Every gift, however small, will be helpful in the work.

Up to today Clearfield County fishermen had taken out just 1091 fishermen's licenses. The trout season opens next Saturday and the coming week will undoubtedly see a grand rush for licenses. It is expected that the total number of licenses issued in the county will reach 2000 by the 15th.

Red, a very bright red oilcloth, makes an unusually effective table covering for a dark corner. Usually the place for such material is in the kitchen, but occasionally one sees it in studios and sitting rooms and in the dull light the effect is really quite lovely.

Shot Making Is Unchanged.

Shot making is one of the few industries that have hardly changed in more than 100 years. Melted lead is still poured from the top of a shot tower. Small sizes require a drop of 100 feet, the larger require a longer fall of nearly double that height.

Susan's Secret

Susan had been put out to service, and her mistress liked the rosy face of the young girl. One day Susan was sent on an errand to town. LESSON FOR APRIL 9

THE LORD PRESERVES JOASH

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 11:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord preserveth all them that love Him.—Psalm 145:20.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—II Kings 11:1-20; II Chron. 23:1-20; Matt. 23:35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of a Boy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Boy Became King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Boy Saved for a Great Career.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of Personal and National Safety.

Joash, viewed in the light of his ancestors, was a poor prospect for a king. His grandmother was the wicked Athaliah and his great grandparents were Ahab and Jezebel. There was enough bad blood in his veins to assure his doom. Despite this fact, he brought about some noble reforms and turned the people back to God.

I. Athaliah Usurps the Throne (vv. 1-3).

1. Her attempt to destroy the seed royal (vv. 1). In order to remove any rival claimant to the throne she tried to kill all the royal male children.

2. Joash preserved by Jehoshabea (vv. 2, 3). Though Athaliah was keen-eyed she was checked by another woman. Her fatal omission was not to get rid of the women too. This woman, the wife of the priest, stole away the child and hid him in the basement for six years. God had promised that through the Davidic line the Messiah should come. In order that this line be unbroken Joash must be preserved. No purpose of God can fail.

II. Joash Crowned King (vv. 4-12).

1. Jehoiada's preparations (vv. 4-11). The high priest and his wife were intelligent and strong characters. As the high priest, Jehoiada felt that it was his duty to thwart the heathen project of Athaliah. Doubtless his co-operation with his wife made possible the saving of Joash.

(1) Secured the aid of the military leaders (v. 4). He knew somehow that these men were not loyal to Athaliah. (2) Bound them under solemn oath (v. 4). He took an oath of them in the house of the Lord. Honest men will stand by their word. (3) Excited their spirit of patriotism (v. 4). He gave them a sight of the king's son. This, no doubt, was a great surprise. Now having seen the heir to the throne they would risk everything, even their lives, in order to set him on the throne. (4) Co-ordinates all matters (vv. 5-11). The soldiers were divided into companies and arms were distributed to them. Each group was assigned to specific duties. (5) The coronation (v. 12). (a) The king's son brought forth. This was a great day in Jerusalem. After six years of usurpation, the people all the while supposing that all the heirs to the throne were dead, now to gaze upon the king's son would be a notable event. (2) Put the crown upon him. This was the formal induction into office. (3) Gave him the testimony. This was a copy of the law, showing that the king was to rule according to the law of God. The act of putting the law upon his head showed that the king himself would be under the control of the law. (4) Made him king. This shows that he was made king by the choice of the people. (5) Anointed him. They poured oil upon his head. This was the usual method of consecrating prophets, priests and kings. (6) Clapped their hands. This was a token of joy.

III. Athaliah Slain (vv. 13-17).

1. The noise of the coronation of Joash brought Athaliah to the temple (v. 13). Up to this time she thought her place on the throne was secure and that her heathen religion had free course.

2. Her dismay (v. 14). Upon her arrival at the temple she saw the king wearing the crown and surrounded by the guards, so that she could do nothing. In her despair she exclaimed: "Treason, treason!" How prone wicked men and women are to cry out as though they had been wronged when their wicked plots and conspiracies are exposed and thwarted!

3. Athaliah executed (vv. 15, 16). The orders were that she should not be killed in the temple. They led her out by the way of the horses' entrance to the king's palace and slew her. What a tragic end for the sinner! Sin can only prosper for a time.

IV. Worship of the True God (vv. 17, 18).

Joash was seven years old when he was made king. The high priest made a covenant between the Lord, the king and the people that they would be the Lord's people. In carrying out this covenant they broke down the temple of Baal and slew the priest of Baal.

LEADS LEGION IN MICHIGAN

Paul Martin, Newspaper Man, State Commander, Son of Former Governor of Kansas.

Another newspaper man has risen high in American Legion affairs—Paul A. Martin, commander of the Legion in Michigan and editor of a paper in Battle Creek. Newspaper men now rank next to lawyers and doctors in the ranks of those who hold posts of responsibility in the Legion.

Martin comes of fighting stock. His father, the late ex-governor John A. Martin of Kansas, commanded the Eighth Kansas regiment as colonel, in the eventful service seen by that outfit as part of the army of the Cumberland. Martin also comes naturally by his journalistic ability, the colonel having been a militant free-soil editor in the days of the slavery controversy.

Thus equipped by heredity, Martin is carrying on in his territory. He has been in the thick of battle from the start, having organized the Legion post at Battle Creek at the close of the war. In addition to being a fighter and an editor, Martin is an engineer. He served with the Three Hundred and Fourteenth engineers through the St. Mihiel and the Argonne regions, the Armistice finding him on the banks of the Meuse at Sedan, the crossing of which had been forced that night.

BONDY, GOOD LEGION 'KICKER'

New York Grievance Officer Has Settled Many Claims With Veterans' Bureau.

The divine right to kick is a prerogative of the American citizen. The U. S. soldier used to kick when he didn't like something—a trait which distinguished him from the stolid, satisfied Prussian, and which made him a good fighter.

Joseph Bondy, as grievance officer of the American Legion and war risk officer for Onondaga county, N. Y., hears thousands of kicks every year and passes them on with added zest to the proper authorities. He has settled "thousands and thousands" of claims with the veterans' bureau and proved a great friend to every doughboy with an ax to have ground.

Besides being a high kicker, Bondy is a skillful recruiter. New York has the largest Legion membership of any state in the Union—due in a measure to Bondy's intensive efforts. He has assisted in the formation of 37 posts, and has spoken upwards of 200 times in 142 different cities and towns in the state.

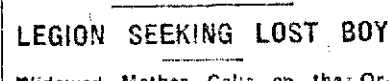

LEGION SEEKING LOST BOY

Widowed Mother Calls on the Organization to Aid in Finding Her Young Son.

The "lost and found" department of the American Legion usually has to work overtime. Every year the Legion has hundreds of calls to find some long-lost person, or to identify some wandering unfortunate who, through mental war disability, has forgotten who and what he is.

A new kind of appeal, from a widowed mother, has resulted in a call to every Legion state adjutant throughout the country to aid in the search for Walter H. Wegrunch, fourteen years old, who disappeared from his home in New York city last September.

The boy weighs about 125 pounds, is 5 feet 4 inches tall, and has sandy hair and blue eyes. Information as to his whereabouts should be communicated to the headquarters of the Legion at Indianapolis.

Carrying On With the American Legion

Applications for the Ohio state bonus were handled through posts of the American Legion. The posts aided needy soldiers in getting prompt payments.

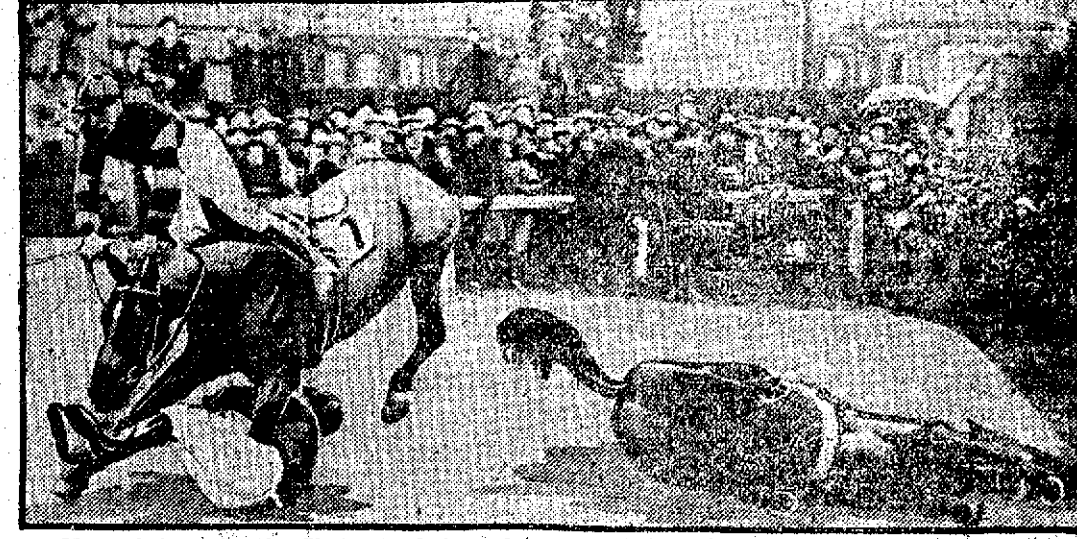

Five thousand acres of land in Herkimer county, N. Y., will be reforested by the American Legion, as a living memorial to men who served in the war.

One ex-colonel is now a buck. Edmund S. Sayer, formerly lieutenant colonel with the One Hundred and Tenth field artillery, has enlisted as a private in the marine corps.

To help jobless ex-soldiers, a Legion post commander at Charleston, W. Va., took over the construction of eight apartments, the work to be done from start to finish by former service men.

Miss Belle Walker, of Bigler, was visiting friends in town Thursday evening.

Most Unusual Horse Picture of the Season

Many photographs of spills in steeplechases have come from England this year, but none so thrilling as this. St. Bernard fell over Awhag in the Grand National Steeplechase at Bechers Brook. The former horse broke his neck, but both jockeys escaped although one was pitched on his head and the other was caught under the falling horse.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

A regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Lawin, yesterday evening.

A paper was read by the President descriptive of the Membership Campaign now on.

Some Hospitality Stock was subscribed for, to be used in the entertainment of the World's Convention in Philadelphia. The candidacy of Mr. F. C. Chorpennig was endorsed by the Union.

The following facts from Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes were read: Two years of National Prohibition has reduced the number of drinkers from 20,000,000 to 2,500,000. Only 15 per cent of former drinkers are drinking now, and only 5 per cent as much as formerly.

The entire drink bill of the Nation has decreased $2,000,000,000 a year. The year 1921 was the healthiest in the U. S. according to figures submitted by Insurance companies.

State Sec'y. of Y. P. B., Miss LaRue Chorpennig being present, told of the presentation of the Historical Polyglot Petition by the U. P. B. for signatures and also distributed some of the new Law Observance Stars.

Study on Government closed the meeting.

The disappearance in the last ten years of a once thriving industry is well illustrated by the experience of an Oregon man who wanted to buy a buggy. The firm, former dealer in this vehicle, to which he wrote, had none, but the customer was persistent, so the firm, after much searching, finally located one that had been left on an unenterprising dealer's hands. The man got his buggy and if he is wise he will take good care of it, because in a few more years it will be difficult to find one the country over.

Yet who cannot remember when the shining new automobile was the pride of the possessor? The manufacture of these vehicles was a large industry. But the horse-drawn buggy could not compete with the self-propelled car and the occasional buggy which ones sees is a lingering survival of a bygone age which was here but yesterday. Many a man of middle age, and woman not many years his junior, has not forgotten the pride that was had in a stylish turnout. With a dependable horse and the right associations a buggy-ride was a pleasure to be remembered.

Buggies are too slow and old-fashioned for the younger generation, but it is doubtful if the young swain and his sweetie get as much enjoyment out of an automobile as those who were youthful in an earlier day did from a buggy and a dependable horse that did not always have to be guided.

The oft-repeated charge that the American people are becoming more worldly in their outlook on life seems to be refuted by church membership statistics printed in the current number of the Christian Herald, which shows a grand total of 43,523,205 church members of all denominations in this country. The gain last year, 761,727, continued the average increase for the last ten years, the total increase for the decade being 7,427,521.

These figures indicate that the churches are not only continuing their power for good, but are steadily increasing their sphere of influence. This vast church membership in the United States represents many creeds, but in the main the influence of all the sects is good. All who seek an explanation of the intolerance of social evils in this country that are permitted in many other lands may find it here.

These figures effectively answer the question, "What is the matter with the church?" There is nothing the matter with it.

The incentive of war production and the urge of post war prices alike having passed, not so much will be heard of the vacant lot gardens this spring. Patriotism and thrift no longer spur as once they did.

Nevertheless, there will be much spading and planting in the next few weeks in soil that, before the war, was given over to weeds. The multitude learned during the vogue of the back-yard garden that the effort is repaid many fold. Not a few who took to garden making for their country's sake, or for the garden's sake, will sow and pluck again this year, for their own sake. It is not only profitable but full of pleasure, health and recreation.

Of course, all do not find joy in the home garden. But the man who loves the feel of the soil and finds philosophy in the miracle of life and growth, quickly becomes an addict. He may not talk so much about it as in recent days of enthusiasm, but will hoe his row in contemplative contentment just the same.

Not all good citizens are home gardeners, but most home gardeners are good citizens.

MYSTERIOUS CAUSE

Some sort may have been responsible for their deaths, the physicians believe, but both parents state that there was no medicine about the house that would have brought that result. Neither boy was out of the house during the morning hours except for a few minutes to visit an out house on the rear of the lot.

The father of the children is employed by the Humphreys Brick and Tile Company. The mother is the daughter of John Z. Vashinder, a pioneer resident of that section. The death of the two boys leaves them childless and they have the sincere sympathy of all.

The contents of the children's stomachs were today sent to a chemist for an examination and an early report is expected.—PUNXSU SPIRIT

Not at All a Bad Idea
Just as tugboats and American Legion posts and suburban streets are named in memory of persons who have been associated with them, so wedding gifts are designated by the name of the giver. When the bride calls to "hurry from the kitchen to the company" silver, she asks for Aunt Martha's soupplate or Mrs. Jones' silver, or Mother Jones' tea set. And hubby may imagine he is getting the hand worked towel that Auntie sent us. Of course, the system may also be used in other one old time who happens to be calling.

Prehistoric Freight

When the cargo of a ship was unloaded recently at Portland, Ore., it was discovered that a certain portion, which was supposed to consist of walrus tusks, proved to be the ivory tusks of the mastodon. Cratty Siberian natives had substituted these for the walrus ivory which was ordered. The cheaters, however, cheated themselves for in spite of its great age the substitute was well preserved and the huge size of the tusks consequently made them more valuable.

No X-Ray for Birds. Dr. Peckercorn knows just where to operate. He needs no X-ray or stethoscope to determine the seat of the trouble, says the American Forestry magazine. In summer he may hear the borer working in the wood, but in winter, when both insects and trees are frozen, when there is no possibility of any sound to guide him, the tree doctor operates just where the hibernating, motionless insects lie snugly hidden in their cells.

Owl Put to Good Fight

The ferocity of the white owl is well known. A hunter shot a mallard that fell upon him and on going to retrieve his prize, found the wounded bird had been attacked by an Arctic owl, whose wing spread was six feet. Instead of flying away upon the approach of man, the owl clapped his big beak viciously and flapped his wings in defiance. As the hunter advanced the owl dashed at him and for several minutes there occurred a terrific fight. In the end the owl had to be shot twice with the shotgun.

A Holy Tryst

As many people are aware, most of the older streets in Montreal are named after saints, male and female. A progressive Yankee has a typical American drug store at the corner of two of these streets, and last summer he put the following sign in his window: "Meet your girl here for an ice-cream soda. This is where St. Thomas meets St. Genevieve."—Harper's Magazine.

Patagonia. Patagonia consists of the territories of Rio Negro, Chubut and Santa Cruz in Argentina. Formerly Patagonia was applied to the whole southern portion of South America. The name may be derived from the Spanish word patagon, meaning a large foot, alluding to the footprints found by early explorers, or it may come from the Guichina word pataguna meaning terraces.

The Wreckers

By FRANCIS LYNDE

There was silence for a little time. It was an awful muddle, with bloody murder sticking out of it on every side. "If you have come here with the idea that I can force Hatch's hand, you are very much mistaken," said the boss of the close of the electric pause. And then: "Has he made it appear to you that he was merely trying to help you avenge your own injured wrongs?" "He said I ought to get you; that any man who would make love to a married woman ought to be got."

My chief was looking past the derelict and out through the darkened window.

"You don't know me, Mr. Collingwood, but you do know your wife; and you know that she is as far above suspicion as the angels in heaven. Let that part of it go. Hatch was merely using you for his own ends. If he could persuade you to kill me off out of the way, it would be merely that much gained in the business fight. You haven't done it yet, far, and now he is under way."

Collingwood's smile was a mere teasing grimace. "Sheila made her wedding journey with me once, when she was just eighteen. The next time she rides with me it will be at my funeral. Oh, I've earned it, and I'm not kidding. And about this other thing: I can't duck. You know what Hatch is holding me for. He told me just a little while ago that if I stepped aboard of a train, I'd be arrested before the train could pull out."

It was a handsome little precaution on the part of the chief of the grafters. If a fight should be precipitated—

As if the helpful suggestion had been a lighted match to fire a hidden mine of rage, Collingwood sprang to his feet with his dull eyes ablaze.

"No, by God!" he swore. "I'm going to make him come across with those affidavit papers first! You wait right here, Norcross. You think I'm all cur, but I'll show you. There isn't much left of me but bound dog, but even a bound dog will bite if you kick him hard enough. Lend me a gun, if you've got one and I'll—"

"Hold on—none of that!" the boss broke in sternly, jumping out of his chair to enforce the command. But before he could make the grabbing move the corridor door slammed noisily and the mudman was gone.

Everybody who is interested in a Berkshire hog is welcome to this meeting whether they have any pure breeds or not, or whether they have one or a dozen hogs at the present time.

"I knew Sheila had made up her mind—God knows she's had cause enough; but I had a crazy notion that I'd like to be on the same side of the earth with her again for just a little while. Then this—" he trailed off in a babble of maledictions poured out upon the man who had trapped him and used him.

The boss straightened himself in his chair, but he still was speaking gently when he said: "You are not asking my advice, and I don't owe you anything, personally, Mr. Collingwood. But I'll say to you what I might say to a better man in like circumstances. You have done all the harm you can, but, as I see it, there doesn't seem to be any need of your staying here to suffer the consequences. Why don't you go back to New York, taking your wife with you. If she will go?"

We Want You To Know The Facts

A Statement By

The Association of Bituminous Coal Operators of Central Pennsylvania

In a series of statements, of which this is the second, we want to present to you, and by you we mean the man who toils, the business man, the professional man and the miner himself, the facts and conditions leading up to and incident to the strike of the United Mine Workers of America in District No. 2 which is now in progress.

The members of this association are employers of union labor—the members of the United Mine Workers of America—and have for the past 23 years recognized the principles of collective bargaining and have always met the miners for the purpose of collective bargaining before the expiration of the various contracts, and successfully concluded wage agreements, and this year as in the 23 years past, advised the United Mine Workers of their willingness to again meet in joint conference to negotiate a new scale agreement effective April 1, 1922.

One of the cardinal principles claimed for the United Mine Workers of America of District No. 2, has always been that of collective bargaining. This is the first time that the miners in the past 23 years have refused the operators the opportunity of entering a joint conference before the expiration of their contract with the operators for the purpose of collective bargaining. The United Mine Workers of District No. 2 have denied the operators of Central Pennsylvania the right or privilege of collective bargaining, thereby repudiating the principle on which they have heretofore stood, and when they suspended work on April 1st in District No. 2, it was in direct violation and in repudiation of their agreement entered into for the period from April 1, 1920, to March 31, 1922, as clearly shown by Rule 25 of said agreement, which follows:

"In the event of a new scale agreement not having been signed on or before March 31, 1922, then and in that event the U. M. W. of A., District No. 2, will continue all men in mines regularly at work under the wages and conditions of this agreement for an additional thirty days after the date on which the Scale Committees of operators and miners hold their first meeting for the purpose of negotiating a scale to succeed this present scale. On reaching an agreement to succeed this present contract the wages paid by the operators to the miners, dating from April 1st, 1922, for such portion of the 30 days work as extend beyond April 1st, 1922, shall be those that are agreed to in the next contract. * * *

The United Mine Workers, parties to the agreement of which the above is a part, quit work at one minute past midnight, March 31st.

The U. M. W. of A., of this district, having refused to meet the Operators Association for the purpose of negotiating and concluding a new scale agreement, effective April 1, 1922, the Operators Association was therefore compelled to formulate and offer to its employes a scale of wages that would place the operators on a competitive basis with other operators who had already reduced wages. In order that the operators of this association can sell their coal and meet competition in the open markets, and thereby secure their fair share of the market demands, and thereby give to their employes their fair share of work days, the operators of this district have posted at their mines the following offer or scale of wages, effective April 1, 1922:

Pick Mining, per gross ton	.8624

Mr. T. C. Mullen was the victim of a painful accident on Thursday. She caught a jar of corn to soften the seal and when she attempted to open it she steam-busted the jar, throwing the hot corn in her face, scalding her badly. Fortunately her eyes were not affected while the burns are very painful, she is fortunate that her sight is unimpaired

Mr. Abel of the A & P has purchased a new Chevrolet car. The first time he drove it he had a heated argument with the ice truck, and with that a wise man with a badly battered car better luck next time we trust.

Fisher May Resign As Head Of Banking Dept., Latest Political Dope

Harrisburg, Pa., April 8.—Pennsylvania politicians are preparing for the warmest gubernatorial contest in the history of the state. Since candidates have been elected by the direct primary method there has been no great fight among candidates. Today with a primary date but a little over five weeks off there are three candidates in the field. The refusal of John S. Fisher, State Banking Commissioner, to withdraw his petition as a gubernatorial nomination candidate in favor of George E. Alter, Attorney General and the administration candidate, may lead to his resignation as a state official. He will be here next week to confer with Governor William C. Sproul. After he announced his candidacy he discussed his possible resignation with the Governor who told him to remain in office, but at that time it was not known the Governor would support his legal adviser.

MORPHINE TABLET KILLS CHILD

Evelyn Murray, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Murray, of Brook's School, near DuBois, died at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon of pneumonia, following morphine poisoning.

The child accidentally procured a morphine tablet on Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock. Physicians were quickly summoned and succeeded in reviving the unfortunate child from the poison of the drug. However, the child's resistance was so depressed that pneumonia developed and quickly resulted in death. The parents survive.

Funeral services were held today at 12 o'clock at the Rockton Church and interment made in the Rockton Cemetery.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sensitive Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a friend indeed, for you were a friend indeed."

—Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1043 Elyran St., Los Angeles, California

Weekly Review of the Stock Market

New York, N. Y., April 8.—Stocks were subjected to a considerable pressure from realizing sales during the first hour of trading on the New York Stock Exchange today and the market displayed irregularities while this liquidation was being absorbed, but during the last hour the whole list strengthened and a large number of issues, particularly the railroad group, attained the highest levels of the year. Gulf States Steel continued its rapid advancement and Mexican Petroleum topped its highest previous limit, while Reading, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, common and preferred, Baltimore and many other low priced rail exceeded their high levels.

Mrs. Annie Rainey of West River Street, was tendered a pleasant birthday surprise on Friday evening last when a number of her friends dropped in on her to help her celebrate the day. An enjoyable time was had by all present.

MANY KILLED AND INJURED IN OKLAHOMA CYCLONE

SOUTHERN OKLAHOMA AND NORTHWESTERN TEXAS AGAIN VISITED BY DEATH-DEALING STORM: GREAT LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

Lawton, Oklahoma, In Storm's Path, Reports Three Dead And Many Injured, Fire Among The Debris Adding To Its Terrors—Many Victims Imprisoned Under Wreckage.

WIRES DOWN AND REPORTS MEAGRE

Lawton, Oklahoma, April 8.—Three persons were reported killed and ten injured in a cyclone which struck the northwestern portion of this city at 7:30 o'clock this morning and destroyed fifteen homes. The dead are Mrs. Scants and her two children. The amount of the damage has not been estimated. Families were just completing their breakfast when the twister struck. Fire broke out immediately after and endangered the lives of those who were injured and imprisoned beneath their homes. The entire city is engaged in rescue work. Telephone and electric service is badly crippled.

Dallas, Texas, April 8.—Northern and western Texas and southern Oklahoma were swept by a cyclone early today. The storm took a toll of at least eight lives, according to reports reaching here over badly crippled wires.

Ballinger, Texas, April 8.—At least six persons are known to be dead in a cyclone which struck Rowena shortly after midnight last night. Six residences were demolished and the crossroads school house has disappeared. Heavy rains have up rescue work. Many people are reported to have fled clad only in their night clothes.

CAN'T CHECK CRIME WAVE
New York, N. Y., April 8.—In an effort to check the crime wave in New York City, Police Commissioner Enright today began acquiring 1192 additional patrolmen and detectives. But a few hours after Enright had received permission to enlarge the police department Harry Crane, an attorney, was shot and instantly killed as he watched a battle between the police and fleeing auto bandits.

Chicago Couple Held In Windy City's Latest Mysterious Murder

Chicago, Ill., April 8.—Miss Veronica Long and her secretly married husband, Lewis Zandt were held by police today in connection with the investigation of the murder of William Parlon. Parlon was killed as he stepped from his automobile to call on Miss Long. Authorities are convinced that Parlon was killed out of jealousy. Immediately after the killing Miss Long packed up her belongings and moved to a new address. Detectives found her at her new home with a man. "Who is that man?" she was asked. She faints. The woman had been living apart from her husband for a short time before the killing. Zandt attempted to establish an alibi, saying he was with another person at the time. This other person, however, denied the statement, and it is a district manager of the Wales Adding Machine Company.

Automobile Bandits Secure $4,000 Pay Roll At Port Chester N. Y.

Port Chester, N. Y., April 8.—Bandits in a luxurious limousine today held up and robbed a messenger carrying a $4,000 pay roll of the Mint Products Company. The youth having charge of the money, was easily overpowered.

Miss Grace Barrett is very ill at her home on West Front street.

Judge Day Re-Asserts He Shot Army Airman In Defense Of His Wife

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 8.—"My wife looked to me to protect her honor. I did." This is the plea of Judge John P. Day before the coroner's jury which today holds its inquiry into the death of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Beck. Across the witness stand Judge Day will face the son of the idol of the air field and seven relatives of the air hero whom Day claims he killed in protecting Mrs. Day's honor. At the same time the County Attorney will start to delve after the hidden angles of the case, he announced. He will attempt to determine what Day saw through the windows of his home that set his brain aflame when he returned from taking guests home from the party and whether Beck was facing him in a fighting attitude when the evidence shows that the bullet which caused his death was fired from the rear.

Mrs. Frank Gould Tells American Women They Must Battle Divorce

New York, N. Y., April 8.—Edith Kelly Gould today called upon American women to fight existing divorce laws, laws which permit American husbands to sneak over to Europe to betray and desert their wives. "What wife knows," the former Mrs. Gould demanded, "when her husband sails for Europe but that she may some day be notified by cable that she has been divorced." The former wife of Frank Gould whose French divorce was recently sustained here warned that the very institution of marriage is in danger when it can be flouted by one husband with money enough to buy a trip to Europe and subsidize an inconspicuous judge. "We are married under American laws and bound by them and we should only be divorced by these same laws," Mrs. Gould said.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

COAL STRIKE

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Members of the House Labor Committee were today considering going to President Harding with a request that he insist that the coal operators of the country come to Washington for a conference with the miners to end the coal strike.

New York, N. Y., April 8.—More than 50,000 non-union miners have joined the ranks of the United Mine Workers in the nation-wide walkout. John L. Lewis told the United Press in an exclusive interview today. At the close of the first week of the coal strike the union leaders still stand firm for a finish fight and no compromise with the operators.

Connellsville, Pa., April 8.—United Mine Workers struck a solid wall of anti-union sentiment here today in their fight to organize the miners in the world's largest coke region. 5000 non-union miners from Uniontown to Connellsville refused to join the nation-wide strike, claiming that their yearly earnings exceeded the wage of the union miners. However, elated at the close of forty large mines in Brownsville—Uniontown district, the local Connellsville organizer predicted the unionizing of the entire region within two weeks.

Uniontown, Pa., April 8.—Coke production has not dropped in undue degree despite shut-downs of 36 mines in the Connellsville region, the H. C. Frick Coke Company estimated today. At coking coal output is being produced in the Connellsville section where union men have not succeeded in getting non-union men to strike. Now, however, several mines are shipping large quantities of coal to Clairton Steel Company which is operating at capacity. Fear that a shutdown in the Connellsville region by the miners union would cripple the steel industry, was dispelled when a Frick official pointed out that the demand was 40 per cent lower than it was three years ago. The crisis will be reached Monday, both operators and miners here believe. Labor organizations are pushing towards the great mining centers demonstrations and speakers are planned for Palm Sunday.

Gallup, New Mexico, April 8.—Two companies of National Guard Engineers and a squadron of Cavalry arrived here today to quell serious rioting and disorder in the coal fields near here. Martial law has been established by order of the Governor.

Keenan Johnson, of Grampian, transacted business in Clearfield yesterday.

Mrs. J. M. Roth and daughter, Corinne of Curwensville spent Friday with friends in town.

Year Round Program and Game Leaders Classes Planned by Community Services

A recreation institute to train leaders in the technique of conducting games and community play and to develop a corps of volunteer playground workers will be held in the High School gymnasium for a period of two weeks beginning April 20th. There will be six sessions, on the Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings between April 20th and May 2nd. Miss Frances Haire, recreation organizer, on the staff of national Community Service has been secured to direct this institute and assist in developing a broad program of good times and neighborliness for the whole year.

This announcement was made today by Mr. George E. Zerfoss, Chairman of Clearfield Community Service who added:

"Every one who enjoys sociability and wants to grow young or stay young, through participation in wholesome recreation is welcome to attend these classes. The game leading courses

MYSTERIOUS CAUSE OF DOUBLE DEATH OF BROTHERS

Boys, Aged 4 And 6, Die Within Same Hour After Illness Of Only About Three Hours.

DOCTORS PUZZLED

Under mysterious circumstances and from causes not yet determined Robert, aged six years, and Theodore, aged four years, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Heller, of Port Barnett, Jefferson county, died yesterday afternoon at their home. Robert died at 4 p. m. before medical aid could be summoned and his little brother succumbed 45 minutes later.

The parents of the dead children are unable to give any explanation of the sudden death of their children and physicians who performed autopsies last evening are just as much at sea. All are convinced, however, that foul play did not have a part in the boys' deaths.

Mrs. Heller says that both boys ate their usual hearty breakfast and that no food that might have caused ptomaine poisoning was a part of the meal. At the noon hour both boys said they were not hungry but this occasioned no alarm as very frequently both boys declined to eat at the noon hour. About 1 p. m. the older boy complained of being sick and declined on a couch. He rose twice to vomit and a short time later the younger boy was taken ill. The older boy apparently recovered and helped his mother about the house. Shortly before 4 o'clock he again became ill and Dr. H. T. Thomson, of Brookville, was summoned. When the physician arrived he found Robert, the older boy, dead and the younger boy near death. The four year old child succumbed about seven minutes after his parent.

In the absence of County Coroner J. C. Mills, his authority was delegated by District Attorney W. E. Morris to Dr. Thomson, who directed an inquest and last evening with the aid of Drs. Snyder and Brown, of Brookville, conducted an autopsy.

The internal organs of the children were found to be in normal condition with nothing in the stomachs to indicate poisoning of any kind. All three physicians are positive that ptomaine poisoning was not responsible for their deaths because the reaction in both cases was not that of ptomaine poisoning. A heart depression was noted.

MAMMOTH ICEBOX IS BEING BUILT HERE FOR SOUTH AMERICA

Monster Refrigerator Goes To Colombia To Try Out Butchers' New Storage Scheme.

IS A TRIAL ORDER

The Banta Refrigerator Co., local refrigerator manufacturers, report that they have secured an order, thru their New York office, for a large meat and storage refrigerator, to be shipped to Carlos Obregon & Co., Bogota, Colombia, South America.

The refrigerator, now in the process of construction at their East End plant, measures 14 ft. across the front, is 12 ft in depth and 11 ft high. The walls are 10 in thick, insulated with water proof paper and mineral wool, which is recognized as a splendid non-conductor of heat and cold. The refrigerator, when ready for shipment, will weigh approximately fifteen (15) tons, 20,000 pounds and will have an ice capacity of 10,000 pounds of ice. The Banta people claim there were over 255,000 nails used in the construction of the refrigerator.

Down in Bogota where this cooler is to be used, the butchers kill about 100 live stock for the daily consumption. Sometimes there are left-overs which on the following day, must be sold at a considerable loss in price, since they have no refrigerators or other means of keeping meats at the present time. This refrigerator is to be used as a storage for their left-overs and if the arrangement is successful, the Banta Co. is assured of an immediate order for twenty-five similar coolers for the same concern.

Banta Refrigerators are in use in Cuba, Hawaiian Islands, Canada, Alaska, Brazil and Argentina. The company contemplates establishing a branch office in Buenos Aires, Argentina, in the near future.

CHORUS OF NEARLY ONE HUNDRED WILL SING "JOAN OF ARC"

Here is some more good news. The Clearfield Musical Club chorus, consisting of seventy five voices under direction of Prof. H. Clark Thayer, will present "Joan of Arc" by Gail. On April 27th at the High School Auditorium. Remember the date, Thursday, April 27th. It will be one of the musical treats of the year. The chorus has been hard at work ever since the first of the year and Professor Thayer has worked hard to turn out an entertainment that will do credit to the city and its many famed soloists. The chorus work will be fully balanced and wonderful to hear while the soloists, Mr. Victor Meredith, Robert Mitchell and Mrs. E. C. Reeve are a guarantee that the performance will be first class in every respect.

Check Writer, Caught At Woodland, Coughs Up $30 And Escapes Prison

Fred C. Clark of Woodland was arrested yesterday at Woodland by Chief of Police Hitt charged with having forged the name of Cecil F. Wilson to a check for $20. The check, it was disclosed at a hearing before Squire John, was passed upon an East End butcher. The butcher passed it along to Burgess Kittelberger in paying a bill and the forgery was discovered when it reached the bank. It was dated April 1st.

Chief Hitt, after picking Clark up took him before Justice John, where a settlement was made between the parties. Clark's plunge into financing, costing him about $30 and a good scare.

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

(From the Monthly Bulletin Issued by The National City Bank of New York for April)

THE general feeling in business circles is one of strengthening confidence that the corner has been turned and that 1922 will be a better year than 1921. The improvement in fundamental conditions and in general feeling since the first of the year has been very marked; indeed, from the middle of January to the first of March optimism was perhaps over-pronounced, and a moderate reaction in some lines has naturally resulted.

The stock market, which is prompt to reflect even anticipate changes in fundamental conditions, has been creeping upward for the last six months in a slow but persistent movement, which suggests faith that better days are coming.

Railroad traffic, as indicated by the reports of car-loadings since the first of the year, have been running ahead of last year, although January gross earnings were about 16 per cent. below those of the same month of 1921. On the other hand the net earnings of 199 roads were $57,421,605 in January against $28,331,956 in January, 1921, which reflects the reduction in operating expenses.

Trading in all lines is on a short order basis. Foreign buyers wish to avoid the risks of exchange fluctuations so far as possible, and in the domestic trade there is a prospect that in some lines, particularly clothing and textiles, prices may be lower. There is general agreement, however, that both at home and abroad stocks have been worked down to the minimum and that there must be constant buying to meet the demands for current consumption. This is one respect in which the situation is decidedly more favorable than it was in the latter part of 1920 and through most of 1921.

The steel industry has made a marked recovery, the United States Steel Corporation now operating at about 70 per cent. of capacity and the independent companies in the aggregate at probably 60 per cent. When it is considered that the production capacity has increased 50 per cent. since before the war, it will be seen that this is far from a state of stagnation.

The implement industry, which is still far from normal, is much better than at this time last year, and the case also with the automobile industry, and even more so with the building industry. The former of the latter are quite recovered, and it is estimated that the building industry is in 1921, $132,909,000 in February against $50,433,167 in 1921.

The Situation in Agriculture. The chief factor in the change of sentiment which has occurred since the first of the year has been the

OTHER FACTORS INFLUENCING CONDITIONS

Aside from the unsettled and extremely unsatisfactory state of the reparations question, European affairs have been progressing in a manner to give encouragement.

The Genoa Conference, although of vague import, should accomplish something by bringing the high representatives of all Europe together.

The disturbance in the textile industry of New England is unsettled and spreading, with a likelihood of involving the entire textile industry of that section before it is settled.

The public has taken the impending coal strike very quietly, refusing to believe that there will be any serious effects upon business.

The labor organizations may have more power than the employers, but both are subject to economic law. There is more to the industrial problem than a mere trial of strength between employers and wage-workers. Industrial peace and progress is dependent upon a general understanding of this fact.

The unfavorable factor which continues to retard industrial recovery is the unbalanced relationship between values in the different industries, resulting from the uneven fall of prices and wages.

Rise in prices of farm products. It came so easily and naturally as to demonstrate that the country had been suffering from excessive pessimism, and that in the natural order of things the economic situation, given reasonable time, would recover its equilibrium. Grain prices in March lost a part of their February gains, but the reasons were obvious and there was no serious loss of confidence. The breaking of the drought in the southwest and improvement in the outlook for the winter wheat crop was the principal factor in the decline. For several months the country had been hearing that the condition of the Kansas wheat crop was critical and getting worse every day, and then came snow and rain, and the prospect is now reported good for a large crop. The world situation in wheat is closely balanced and any important news is likely to have more than the usual effect. Australia and Argentina are both exporting freely. New wheat from India will be available within a month, and the harvest is only three months off in this country. As the crop of the year approaches, opinions about the supplies give way to realities. There have been two negative opinions as to whether or not this country was selling itself short, but the opinion is now general that there will be enough to go around.

Corn and oats always are influenced more or less by wheat, and both are down from the top. The shift in the central markets is all up to storage capacity, and the speculative market is not inclined to make more. The price of corn will be dominated in the long run by the price of live stock, particularly hogs. Ten dollars per hundred for hogs means that a large part of the corn crop is being marketed at very profitable prices.

Although the exports of all meat products in 1921 increased 3 per cent. in pounds over those of 1920, hog products fared better than beef. Cotton is about where it was at the beginning of March. As the world has been living on reduced consumption for several years, it very much needs to use more cotton, and the situation is disquieting. If the season should be bad for the growing crop we may have very high prices for cotton. Such an outcome is very undesirable, for it will mean high prices to consumers with little compensating benefit to growers.

Prospects Encouraging. On the whole there seems to be a good basis for believing that agriculture in all branches will have a better market for the next crop than for the last one. The farmer's costs are declining, and we believe that the necessary readjustments to bring industry into balance require that they shall continue to decline. It is in the interest of all business that the farmers, the most numerous class in the country, shall have a fair show in the field. With agricultural production increasing in Europe, the farmer cannot expect the prices of his products to go back to the high levels due to the war, and if he has made mistakes of judgment by buying property at high prices he has lots of company among people who are not farmers, but he has a right to expect that one way or another, his products have a purchasing power in relation to other commodities and services equal to that of before the war. We do not think that much can be done by means of legislation to secure this to him, but are positively in our opinion that economic law will bring it to him, and we counsel all other groups to cheerfully accept it to him as tightly as

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

The following interesting figures are taken from the twentieth annual report of the Clearfield Hospital, just issued:

During the year ending May 31, 1921. Three Thousand Two Hundred and Sixty-one persons have experienced the benefits of the Hospital. The departments contributing this service and the number treated in each are as follows:

Surgical	1545
Medical	927
Obstetrical	71
Children	165
Out Patients	782
New Born	71

Total Patients cared for	3261
Total number of Hospital days	21,141
Average number treated in 1 day (plus)	.68
Average cost per patient per day	$4.37
Number of ambulance trips made during year	261

Discharged
Recovered	1812
Improved	445
Unimproved	4
Number of deaths during year	84

It was hoped that during the year conditions would adjust themselves to somewhat near a pre-war basis. In this we have been disappointed. The deficit for the year $9164.86 an increase of $2,619.00 over last year has occurred notwithstanding the fact is easy to use

No other lye is packed so safely and conveniently, or is so economical—once it is used. No other lye or soap cleans and disinfects so easily and thoroughly as Banner Lye. It is not old-style lye. It is clean and colorless—the greatest cleanser and disinfectant the world has ever known. Use it for cleaning your kitchen, cellar, sinks, dairy, milk-cans and bottles, for softening water, and the labor of washing and cleaning will be cut in half.

LESSON FOR APRIL 9

THE LORD PRESERVES JOASH

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 11:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord preserveth all them that love Him.—Psalm 145:20.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—II Kings 11:1-20; II Chron. 23:1-20; Matt. 23:35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of a Boy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Boy Became King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Boy Saved for a Great Career.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of Personal and National Safety.

Joash, viewed in the light of his ancestors, was a poor prospect for a king. His grandmother was the wicked Athaliah and his great grandparents were Ahab and Jezebel. There was enough bad blood in his veins to assure his doom. Despite this fact, he brought about some noble reforms and turned the people back to God.

I. Athaliah Usurps the Throne (vv. 1-3).

1. Her attempt to destroy the seed royal (vv. 1). In order to remove any rival claimant to the throne she tried to kill all the royal male children.

2. Joash preserved by Jehoshabea (vv. 2, 3). Though Athaliah was keener-eyed she was checked by another woman. Her fatal omission was not to get rid of the women too. This woman, the wife of the priest, stole away the child and hid him in the breast chamber for six years. God had promised that through the Davidic line the Messiah should come. In order that this line be unbroken Joash must be preserved. No purpose of God can fail.

II. Joash Crowned King (vv. 4-12).

1. Jehoiada's preparations (vv. 4-11). The high priest and his wife were intelligent and strong characters. As the high priest, Jehoiada felt that it was his duty to thwart the heathen project of Athaliah. Doubtless his co-operation with his wife made possible the saving of Joash.

(1) Secured the aid of the military leaders (v. 4). He knew somehow that these men were not loyal to Athaliah. (2) Bound them under solemn oath (v. 4). He took an oath of them in the house of the Lord. Honest men will stand by their word. (3) Excited their spirit of patriotism (v. 4). He gave them a sight of the king's son. This, no doubt, was a great surprise. Now having seen the heir to the throne they would risk everything, even their lives, in order to set him on the throne. (4) Co-ordinates all matters (vv. 5-11). The soldiers were divided into companies and arms were distributed to them. Each group was assigned to specific duties. 2. The coronation (v. 12). (a) The king's son brought forth. This was a great day in Jerusalem. After six years of usurpation, the people all the while supposing that all the heirs to the throne were dead, now to gaze upon the king's son would be a notable event. (2) Put the crown upon him. This was the formal induction into office. (3) Gave him the testimony. This was a copy of the law, showing that the king was to rule according to the law of God. The act of putting the law upon his head showed that the king himself would be under the control of the law. (4) Made him king. This shows that he was made king by the choice of the people. (5) Anointed him. They poured oil upon his head. This was the usual method of consecrating prophets, priests and kings. (6) Clapped their hands. This was a token of joy.

III. Athaliah Slain (vv. 13-17).

1. The noise of the coronation of Joash brought Athaliah to the temple (v. 13). Up to this time she thought her place on the throne was secure and that her heathen religion had free course.

2. Her dismay (v. 14). Upon her arrival at the temple she saw the king wearing the crown and surrounded by the guards, so that she could do nothing. In her despair she exclaimed: "Treason, treason!" How prone wicked men and women are to cry out as though they had been wronged when their wicked plots and conspiracies are exposed and thwarted!

3. Athaliah executed (vv. 15, 16). The orders were that she should not be killed in the temple. They led her out by the way of the horses' entrance to the king's palace and slew her. What a tragic end for the sinner! Sin can only prosper for a time.

IV. Worship of the True God (vv. 17, 18).

Joash was seven years old when he was made king. The high priest made a covenant between the Lord, the king and the people that they would be the Lord's people. In carrying out this covenant they broke down the temple of Baal and slew the priest of Baal.

The Way to God.

Prayer carries us halfway to God, fasting brings us to the door of His palace, and alms-giving procures us admission.—Koran.

The Saddest Thing.

The saddest thing that can befall a soul is when it loses faith in God and man.—Alexander Smith.

Hope and Joy.

A propensity to hope and joy is real riches; one to fear and sorrow, real poverty.—Hume.

LEADS LEGION IN MICHIGAN

Paul Martin, Newspaper Man, State Commander, Son of Former Governor of Kansas.

Another newspaper man has risen high in American Legion affairs—Paul A. Martin, commander of the Legion in Michigan and editor of a paper in Battle Creek. Newspaper men now rank next to lawyers and doctors in the ranks of those who hold posts of responsibility in the Legion.

Martin comes of fighting stock. His father, the late ex-governor John A. Martin of Kansas, commanded the Eighth Kansas regiment as colonel, in the eventful service seen by that outfit as part of the army of the Cumberland. Martin also comes naturally by his journalistic ability, the colonel having been a militant free-soil editor in the days of the slavery controversy.

Thus equipped by heredity, Martin is carrying on in his territory. He has been in the thick of battle from the start, having organized the Legion post at Battle Creek at the close of the war. In addition to being a fighter and an editor, Martin is an engineer. He served with the Three Hundred and Fourteenth engineers through the St. Mihiel and the Argonne regions, the Armistice finding him on the banks of the Meuse at Stenay, the crossing of which had been forced that night.

BONDY, GOOD LEGION 'KICKER'

New York Grievance Officer Has Settled Many Claims With Veterans' Bureau.

The divine right to kick is a prerogative of the American citizen. The U. S. soldier used to kick when he didn't like something—a trait which distinguished him from the stolid, satisfied Prussian, and which made him a good fighter.

Joseph Bondy, as grievance officer of the American Legion and war risk officer for Onondaga county, N. Y., hears thousands of kicks every year and passes them on with added zest to the proper authorities. He has settled "thousands and thousands" of claims with the veterans' bureau and proved a great friend to every doughboy with an ax to have ground.

Besides being a high kicker, Bondy is a skillful recruiter. New York has the largest Legion membership of any state in the Union—due in a measure to Bondy's intensive efforts. He has assisted in the formation of 37 posts, and has spoken upwards of 200 times in 142 different cities and towns in the state.

Most Unusual Horse Picture of the Season

Many photographs of spills in steeplechases have come from England this year, but none so thrilling as this. St. Bernard fell over Awhag in the Grand National Steeplechase at Bechers Brook. The former horse broke his neck, but both jockeys escaped although one was pitched on his head and the other was caught under the falling horse.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

A regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. F. B. Lawin, yesterday evening.

A paper was read by the President descriptive of the Membership Campaign now on.

Some Hospitality Stock was subscribed for, to be used in the entertainment of the World's Convention in Philadelphia. The candidacy of Mr. F. C. Chorpennig was endorsed by the Union.

The following facts from Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes were read: Two years of National Prohibition has reduced the number of drinkers from 20,000,000 to 2,500,000. Only 15 per cent of former drinkers are drinking now, and only 5 per cent as much as formerly.

The entire drink bill of the Nation has decreased $2,000,000,000 a year. The year 1921 was the healthiest in the U. S. according to figures

submitted by Insurance companies.

State Sec'y. of Y. P. B., Miss LaRue Chorpennig being present, told of the presentation of the Historical Polyglot Petition by the U. P. B. for signatures and also distributed some of the new Law Observance Stars.

Study on Government closed the meeting.

The disappearance in the last ten years of a once thriving industry is well illustrated by the experience of an Oregon man who wanted to buy a buggy. The firm, former dealer in this vehicle, to which he wrote, had none, but the customer was persistent, so the firm, after much searching, finally located one that had been left on an unenterprising dealer's hands. The man got his buggy and if he is wise he will take good care of it, because in a few more years it will be difficult to find one the country over.

Yet who cannot remember when the shining new automobile was the pride of the possessor? The manufacture of these vehicles was a large industry. But the horse-drawn buggy could not compete with the self-propelled car and the occasional buggy which ones sees is a lingering survival of a bygone age which was here but yesterday. Many a man of middle age, and woman not many years his junior, has not forgotten the pride that was had in a stylish turnout. With a dependable horse and the right associations a buggy-ride was a pleasure to be remembered.

Buggies are too slow and old-fashioned for the younger generation, but it is doubtful if the young swain and his sweetie get as much enjoyment out of an automobile as those who were youthful in an earlier day did from a buggy and a dependable horse that did not always have to be guided.

The oft-repeated charge that the American people are becoming more worldly in their outlook on life seems to be refuted by church membership statistics printed in the current number of the Christian Herald, which shows a grand total of 43,523,205 church members of all denominations in this country. The gain last year, 761,727, continued the average increase for the last ten years, the total increase for the decade being 7,427,521.

These figures indicate that the churches are not only continuing their power for good, but are steadily increasing their sphere of influence. This vast church membership in the United States represents many creeds, but in the main the influence of all the sects is good. All who seek an explanation of the intolerance of social evils in this country that are permitted in many other lands may find it here.

These figures effectively answer the question, "What is the matter with the church?" There is nothing the matter with it.

The incentive of war production and the urge of post war prices alike having passed, not so much will be heard of the vacant lot gardens this spring. Patriotism and thrift no longer spur as once they did.

Nevertheless, there will be much spading and planting in the next few weeks in soil that, before the war, was given over to weeds. The multitude learned during the vogue of the back-yard garden that the effort is repaid many fold. Not a few who took to garden making for their country's sake, or for the garden's sake, will sow and pluck again this year, for their own sake. It is not only profitable but full of pleasure, health and recreation.

Of course, all do not find joy in the home garden. But the man who loves the feel of the soil and finds philosophy in the miracle of life and growth, quickly becomes an addict. He may not talk so much about it as in recent days of enthusiasm, but will hoe his row in contemplative contentment just the same.

Not all good citizens are home gardeners, but most home gardeners are good citizens.

CURTAIN!

Some sort may have been responsible for their deaths, the physicians believe, but both parents state that there was no medicine about the house that would have brought that result. Neither boy was out of the house during the morning hours except for a few minutes to visit an out house on the rear of the lot.

The father of the children is employed by the Humphreys Brick and Tile Company. The mother is the daughter of John Z. Vashinder, a pioneer resident of that section. The death of the two boys leaves them childless and they have the sincere sympathy of all.

The contents of the children's stomachs were today sent to a chemist for an examination and an early report is expected.—PUNXSU SPIRIT

Not at All a Bad Idea
Just as tugboats and American Legion posts and suburban streets are named in memory of persons who have been associated with them, so wedding gifts are designated by the name of the giver. When the bride calls to "hurry from the kitchen to the company" silver, she asks for Aunt Martha's soupplate or Mrs. Jones' silver, or Mother Jones' tea set. And hubby may imagine he is getting the hand worked towel that Auntie sent us. Of course, the system may also be used in other one old time who happens to be calling.

Author's Trip A Most Reveal
Mark Twain says that when he first came over in 1870 to take the editorship of the proposed Lakeside Magazine in Chicago that he was the only one in such a position to be of use to the publisher. He was the only one who had been in Italy's corner since 1870 after 75 years of lamented absence.

Prehistoric Freight

When the cargo of a ship was unloaded recently at Portland, Ore., it was discovered that a certain portion, which was supposed to consist of walrus tusks, proved to be the ivory tusks of the mastodon. Cratty Siberian natives had substituted these for the walrus ivory which was ordered. The cheaters, however, cheated themselves for in spite of its great age the substitute was well preserved and the huge size of the tusks consequently made them more valuable.

No X-Ray for Birds.

Dr. Peckeryow knows just where to operate. He needs no X-ray or stethoscope to determine the seat of the trouble, says the American Forestry magazine. In summer he may hear the borer working in the wood, but in winter, when both insects and trees are frozen, when there is no possibility of any sound to guide him, the tree doctor operates just where the hibernating, motionless insects lie snugly hidden in their cells.

Owl Put to Good Fight.

The ferocity of the white owl is well known. A hunter shot a mallard that fell upon him and on going to retrieve his prize, found the wounded bird had been attacked by an Arctic owl, whose wing spread was six feet. Instead of flying away upon the approach of man, the owl clapped his big beak viciously and flapped his wings in defiance. As the hunter advanced the owl dashed at him and for several minutes there occurred a terrific fight. In the end the owl had to be shot twice with the shotgun.

A Holy Tryst.

As many people are aware, most of the older streets in Montreal are named after saints, male and female. A progressive Yankee has a typical American drug store at the corner of two of these streets, and last summer he put the following sign in his window: "Meet your girl here for an ice-cream soda. This is where St. Thomas meets St. Genevieve."—Harper's Magazine.

Patagonia.

Patagonia consists of the territories of Rio Negro, Chubut and Santa Cruz in Argentina. Formerly Patagonia was applied to the whole southern portion of South America. The name may be derived from the Spanish word patagon, meaning a large foot, alluding to the footprints found by early explorers, or it may come from the Quichua word pataguna meaning footprints.

The Wreckers

By FRANCIS LYNDE

There was silence for a little time. It was an awful muddle, with bloody murder sticking out of it on every side. "If you have come here with the idea that I can force Hatch's hand, you are very much mistaken," said the boss at the close of the electric pause. And then: "Has he made it appear to you that he was merely trying to help you avenge your own innocent wrongs?" "He said I ought to get you; that any man who would make love to a married woman ought to be got."

My chief was looking past the derelict and out through the darkened window.

"You don't know me, Mr. Collingwood, but you do know your wife; and you know that she is as far above suspicion as the angels in heaven. Let that part of it go. Hatch was merely using you for his own ends. If he could persuade you to kill me off out of the way, it would be merely that much gained in the business fight. You haven't done it that far, and now he is under your check-cashing excursion as a club with which he proposes to brain the entire railroad management, your uncle included, if we interfere with his plans."

"Why Shouldn't I Want to See You Killed?"

Collingwood scowled up at the ceiling, shifting the dead elgar from one corner of his mouth to the other.

"So that's the way of it, is it?" he commented. "He was working for his own pocket all the time, and Uncle Brock stands pat and, slips him the ace he was needing to make his hand a winner. Between you and me, Norcross, I believe this old piker needs killing a few times, himself."

The boss sat back in his swing chair and I could just imagine that he was trying to get some sort of proper angle on this young fellow who, in addition to his other accomplishments, big and little, had wrecked the life of Sheila Muerne. I knew what he was thinking. He had a theory that no man that was ever born was either all angel or all devil, and he was hunting for the red sealing streak in this one.

When you looked right hard at the haggard face you could see something sort of half-faunting in it; something to make you think that perhaps, away back yonder before the spoiling began, there used to be a man; never a strong man, I guess, but one that might have been generous and free-hearted. Maybe. I got a fleeting little glimpse of that back-number man when he turned suddenly and said:

"One night a few weeks ago when I was full up, Hatch got hold of me and told me you were out at the Kendrick place with Sheila. He made me believe that I ought to go out there and kill you, and I started to do it. Do you know why I didn't do it?"

"No," said the chief, insightfully. "Well, I'll tell you. One night last spring up at the Bullard you slugged me one in the face and dragged me off to my room to keep me from making a bigger ass of myself than I'd already made. I haven't forgotten that. In all these crooked years, nobody else has ever taken the trouble to chuck me decently out of sight and give me a chance to brace. Drunk as I was, I remembered it, that night when I was climbing up to a window in the major's house and trying to get a shot at you."

Mr. Norcross shook his head, more than half sympathetically, I thought. "Let that part of it go and tell me about this other trouble," he said. "How badly are you tangled up in this political business?"

"I've given it to you straight on the bulling part a siffon. Uncle Brock used me as a meaty carrier because—well, maybe it was because he couldn't trust Bullock. I didn't know definitely what Bullock was doing with the checks I cashed for him, though I supposed, of course, it was something that wouldn't stand a court trial. It was only a blue issue with him, and he was taking out here anyway. I knew Sheila had made up her mind—God knows she's had cause enough; but I had a crazy notion that I'd like to be on the same side of the earth with her again for just a little while. Then this—" he trailed off in a babble of maledictions poured out upon the man who had trapped him and used him.

The boss straightened himself in his chair, but he still was speaking gently when he said:

"You are not asking my advice, and I don't owe you anything, personally, Mr. Collingwood. But I'll say to you what I might say to a better man in like circumstances. You have done all the harm you can, but, as I see it, there doesn't seem to be any need of your staying here to suffer the consequences. Why don't you go back to New York, taking your wife with you. If she will go?"

Collingwood's smile was a mere teasing, teasing grimace.

"Sheila made her wedding journey with me once, when she was just eighteen. The next time she rides with me it will be at my funeral. Oh, I've earned it, and I'm not kidding. And about this other thing: I can't duck. You know what Hatch is holding me for. He told me just a little while ago that if I stepped aboard of a train, I'd be arrested before the train could pull out."

It was a handsome little precaution on the part of the chief of the grafters. If a fight should be precipitated—if the boss should try to checkmate the C. S. & W. gobbler—the arrest and indictment of President Duntion's nephew would serve badly good and well as a dramatic bit of side play to keep the newspapers from printing too much about the other thing.

"If you really want to go, I think it can be arranged in some way, in spite of Hatch and his bluffing," Mr. Norcross put in quietly. "So far as our railroad troubles are concerned it will neither help nor hinder for you to stay on here, now."

As if the helpful suggestion had been a lighted match to fire a hidden mine of rage, Collingwood sprang to his feet with his dull eyes ablaze.

"No, by God!" he swore. "I'm going to make him come across with those affidavit papers first! You wait right here, Norcross. You think I'm all cur, but I'll show you. There isn't much left of me but bound dog, but even a bound dog will bite if you kick him hard enough. Lend me a gun, if you've got one and I'll—"

"Hold on—none of that!" the boss broke in sternly, jumping out of his chair to enforce the command. But before he could make the grabbing move the corridor door slammed noisily and the mudman was gone.

CHAPTER XVI

The Deserter

Mr. Norcross chased out and tried to overtake Collingwood, going as far as the foot of the stairs. I went, too, but got only far enough to meet the boss coming up again. There was nothing doing. The station policeman had seen the crazy rounder jump into a taxi and go spinning off up-town.

There was another jolt waiting for us when we got back to the office. While we were both out, Mr. Van Britt had blown in from his room at the foot of the hall and we found him lounging comfortably in the chair that Collingwood had just vacated.

"I thought maybe you'd turn up again pretty soon, since you'd left the doors all open," was the way he started out. Then: "Sit down, Graham; I want to talk a few lines."

Mr. Norcross took his own chair and twirled it to face the general superintendent. "Say it," he commanded briefly.

Mr. Van Britt hooked his thumbs in his armpits.

"I've just been figuring a bit on the general outlook; you have a decently efficient operating outfit here, what with Perkins and Brant and Conway handling the three divisions as self-contained units. You don't need a general superintendent any more than a monkey needs two tails."

"What are you driving at?" was the curt demand.

"Well, suppose we say retrenchment, for one thing. As I size it up, you might just as well be saving my salary. It would buy a good many new crosses in the course of a year."

"That's all bunk, and you know it," snapped the boss. "The organization as it stands hasn't a single stick of dead wood in it. You know very well that a railroad the size of the Short Line can't run without an individual head of the operating department."

Mr. Van Britt laughed a little at that.

"If you should get some one of these new efficiency experts out here he would probably tell you that you could cut your staff right in two in the middle."

I could see that the boss was getting mighty nearly impatient.

"You are merely turning handsprings around the edges of the thing you have come to say, Upton. He barked out. "Come to the point, can't you? What have you got up your sleeve?"

"Nothing that I could make you understand in a month of Sundays. I'm sore on my job and I want to quit."

"Nonsense! You don't mean that?" "Yes, I do. I'm tired of wearing the brass collar of a soulless corporation. What's the use, anyway? I found a bunch of dividend checks from my bank at home in the mail to-day, and what good does the money do me? I can't spend it out here; can't even tip the servants at the hotel without everlastingly demoralizing them. I'm like the little boy who wanted to go out in the garden and eat worms."

The boss was frowning thoughtfully. "You're not giving me a show, Upton," he protested. "Can't you blow the froth off and let me see what's in the bottom of the stein?" "Pledge you my word, it's all froth, Graham. I want to climb up on the mesa behind the shops and take a good deep breath of free air and shake my fist at your blamed old cow-truck of a railroad and tell it to go to the devil. You shouldn't deny me a little pleasure like that."

It was getting under the boss' skin at last. "I can't believe that you really want to resign," he broke out, sort of hopelessly. "It's simply preposterous!"

"Pull it down out of the future and put it in the present, and you've got it," said Mr. Van Britt. "I have resigned. I wrote it out on a piece of paper and dropped it into your mail box as I came through the outer office. It's signed, sealed, and delivered. You'll give me a testimonial, or something of that sort, 'To Whom It May Concern,' won't you? I've been obedient and faithful and honest and efficient, and all that, haven't I?"

"I'd like to know where you got your liquor, Upton. That is the most charitable construction I can put upon all this. Why, man alive! you're quitting me in the thick of the toughest fight the grafters have put up!"

"Yes, I know; but a man's got only one life to live, and I've always had a sneaking sympathy for the high private in the front rank who didn't want to stand up and get himself shot full of holes. I'm running, and if you should ask me why, I'd tell you what the retreating soldier told Stonewall Jackson; he said he was running only because he couldn't fly." Once more the boss grew silently thoughtful. Out of the digging mental inquiry he brought this:

"Has this sudden notion of yours anything to do with Sheila Macrae, Upton?"

"Pledge you my word again. I met Sheila on the street today and promised her that I wouldn't so much as tip my hat to her while Collingwood is on this side of the Missouri river."

"But if you quit, you'll go east yourself, won't you?"

"Maybe, after a while. For the time being, I'd like to loaf on you for a week or so and watch the wheels go around without my having to prod them. It's running in my mind that this newest phase of the C. S. & W. business is going to stir up a mighty pretty shindy, and I had a foolish notion that I'd like to stick around and look on—as an innocent bystander."

"The innocent bystander usually gets shot in the leg," the boss ripped out, with the brittlest kind of humor. And then: "I suppose I shall have to let you go what you want to—and let you pick your own time for giving me the real reason. But you're crippling me most savagely. Upton—and at a time when I am least able to stand it."

Mr. Van Britt got up and edged his way toward the door.

"It's a good reason, Graham; and some time—say when we are walking through the pearly gates of the New Jerusalem together—maybe I'll tell

We Want You To Know The Facts

A Statement By

The Association of Bituminous Coal Operators of Central Pennsylvania

In a series of statements, of which this is the second, we want to present to you, and by you we mean the man who toils, the business man, the professional man and the miner himself, the facts and conditions leading up to and incident to the strike of the United Mine Workers of America in District No. 2 which is now in progress.

The members of this association are employers of union labor—the members of the United Mine Workers of America—and have for the past 23 years recognized the principles of collective bargaining and have always met the miners for the purpose of collective bargaining before the expiration of the various contracts, and successfully concluded wage agreements, and this year as in the 23 years past, advised the United Mine Workers of their willingness to again meet in joint conference to negotiate a new scale agreement effective April 1, 1922.

One of the cardinal principles claimed for the United Mine Workers of America of District No. 2, has always been that of collective bargaining. This is the first time that the miners in the past 23 years have refused the operators the opportunity of entering a joint conference before the expiration of their contract with the operators for the purpose of collective bargaining. The United Mine Workers of District No. 2 have denied the operators of Central Pennsylvania the right or privilege of collective bargaining, thereby repudiating the principle on which they have heretofore stood, and when they suspended work on April 1st in District No. 2, it was in direct violation and in repudiation of their agreement entered into for the period from April 1, 1920, to March 31, 1922, as clearly shown by Rule 25 of said agreement, which follows:

"In the event of a new scale agreement not having been signed on or before March 31, 1922, then and in that event the U. M. W. of A., District No. 2, will continue all men in mines regularly at work under the wages and conditions of this agreement for an additional thirty days after the date on which the Scale Committees of operators and miners hold their first meeting for the purpose of negotiating a scale to succeed this present scale. On reaching an agreement to succeed this present contract the wages paid by the operators to the miners, dating from April 1st, 1922, for such portion of the 30 days work as extend beyond April 1st, 1922, shall be those that are agreed to in the next contract. * * *

The United Mine Workers, parties to the agreement of which the above is a part, quit work at one minute past midnight, March 31st.

The U. M. W. of A., of this district, having refused to meet the Operators Association for the purpose of negotiating and concluding a new scale agreement, effective April 1, 1922, the Operators Association was therefore compelled to formulate and offer to its employes a scale of wages that would place the operators on a competitive basis with other operators who had already reduced wages. In order that the operators of this association can sell their coal and meet competition in the open markets, and thereby secure their fair share of the market demands, and thereby give to their employes their fair share of work days, the operators of this district have posted at their mines the following offer or scale of wages, effective April 1, 1922:

Fisher May Resign As Head Of Banking Dept., Latest Political Dope

Harrisburg, Pa., April 8.—Pennsylvania politicians are preparing for the warmest gubernatorial contest in the history of the state. Since candidates have been elected by the direct primary method there has been no great fight among candidates. Today with a primary date but a little over five weeks off there are three candidates in the field. The refusal of John S. Fisher, State Banking Commissioner, to withdraw his petition as a gubernatorial nomination candidate in favor of George E. Alter, Attorney General and the administration candidate, may lead to his resignation as a state official. He will be here next week to confer with Governor William C. Sproul. After he announced his candidacy he discussed his possible resignation with the Governor who told him to remain in office, but at that time it was not known the Governor would support his legal adviser.

MORPHINE TABLET KILLS CHILD

Evelyn Murray, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Murray, of Brook's School, near DuBois, died at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon of pneumonia, following morphine poisoning.

The child accidentally procured a morphine tablet on Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock. Physicians were quickly summoned and succeeded in reviving the unfortunate child from the poison of the drug. However, the child's resistance was so depressed that pneumonia developed and quickly resulted in death. The parents survive.

Funeral services were held today at 12 o'clock at the Rockton Church and interment made in the Rockton Cemetery.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a friend indeed, for you were a friend indeed."

—Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1043 Elyran St., Los Angeles, California

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be a "Friend indeed" to you.

Why Not Have Those Chairs Re-Covered Now?

You're going to start housecleaning before long and you're going to want some little changes so your house will have a cleaned look. Why not have those chairs or that upholstered suite recovered and the broken spring replaced before you start housecleaning, so that when you're done you may have them to put in as soon as you're thru.

We can do it better now before the spring rush starts.

THE MILK FED KIDDIES ARE HUSKY KIDDIES

Look around you and see the kiddies that are brought up on a milk diet. They're husky and strong—they're not underweight—they have a good color—they're just as robust as a kiddie that has a chance should be.

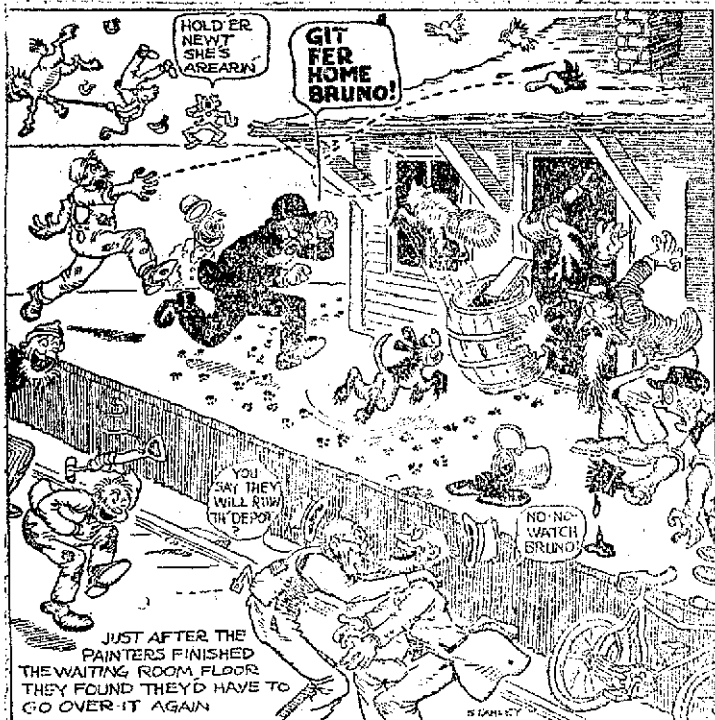

When you stop to consider that milk carries every thing that a food should carry and when you know that our milk goes to your home as pure as milk can be and carries all the nutriment that milk can carry, you realize why these kiddies are as they are.

Milk's good for grown-ups as well. Drink more of it.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

BY STANLEY

RECEPTION TENDERED REV. H. L. JACOBS

Last night a large company filled the lecture room to extend a Trinity Methodist welcome to Rev. Mr. Jacobs and his wife. The master of ceremonies was A. H. Woodward, Esq. Representing their respective interests, words of welcome were spoken by J. C. Arnold, Esq., for the Bible School and the Law; S. L. Warner for both the Rotary and Commercial Clubs; Rev. J. P. McCurdy, Secretary of the Ministerial Association in place of Rev. E. C. Reeve, D. D. who was confined to his home; Superintendent G. E. Ziefoss for the Public Schools, and H. B. Powell for the congregation.

The musical numbers were varied and given by Miss Ethel Boyce, Albert Kennard, Mrs. Paul Stauffer Mrs. J. W. Gallaher the Keystone Quartet and the orchestra.

The pastor made fitting reply to the welcome extended, discussing some of the problems of the Church and the individual duties of pastor and people, as well as their mutual duties in cooperation. At the close of his remarks the receiving line was formed, headed by H. B. Powell, who introduced the people to the pastor and his wife. In line were Rev. R. S. Oyler, Ph. D., and wife, of Trinity Methodist church, Phillipsburg, Rev. A. J. Price and wife of Hyde City Methodist church; Mrs. H. R. Powell, A. W. Leonardson and wife, W. M. Neff and wife, Richard Kennard and wife, S. L. Warner and wife, W. H. Callahan and wife, W. M. Boyce and wife, Lester Smeal, and wife, J. C. Arnold, Miss Anna Mulholland and Don Gingery and wife.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cook, at the home of Mrs. Cook's parents in Seranton, a daughter, "Daddy" Cook left this morning for Seranton to see his family.
